

Tom LoBue - Guitar

Tom was born in Pittsburgh, Pa. He started out on piano but switched to guitar at age 18. He played in a few local garage bands for the next several years doing covers and trying to write some original material. He began playing semi-professionally in 1979. Tom enjoys Blues, Rock, Jazz, and R and B and was influenced by Steve Morse, Robben Ford, Jeff Beck, Jimi Hendrix, and Wes Montgomery. Tom owns many guitars, his favorites being a 1971 maple neck Fender Stratacaster, a 2006 rosewood fretboard Stratacaster, a 1968 Gold Top Les Paul, a 1998 Parker Nitefly and an Ibanez Hollowbody Archtop. Tom only plays through tube amplifiers and has a hand built Fender Deluxe Reverb (thanks Stosh) and a Roccaforte Custom 40 (thanks Doug). Tom produces a sound that is uniquely his. He is well known in South West Florida for not only his sound but for his outstanding guitar work. A true professional, Tom adds the flavor and color to the band.
